

Complimentary Fish

Working on adding and subtracting combinations, it is played with a deck of cards. If you choose to use the face cards, Jack is 11, Queen 12 and King 13. Aces are 1, for either the use of the whole deck or if only using the number cards.

Deal five cards to each player. The remaining cards are placed face down in a deck. Dealer chooses which fact family they will work on in the first round. If the dealer calls out "sevens" than all players are trying to find combinations that total seven. Player number one may ask another player if they have a five to add to their two. If so, then player number one lays down these two cards and draws two cards from the deck to replenish their hand. Player may continue their turn until unsuccessful in finding a match. Player number two then takes their turn. For example, they may ask for an eight to combine with an Ace for a difference of seven. If that player does not have an eight, then player number two must "Go Fish" and draw another card from the deck. The next player may now proceed.

Play continues until all the cards have been used. Players count up their combinations and the player with the most cards is the winner.
